Sample Persuasive Prompt and Essay
English II

Sample Persuasive Prompt: The state senate is trying to decide whether or not high school students who drop out or flunk out of school should lose their drivers' licenses. Decide if you are "for" or "against" such a bill, and write to the senators asking them to follow your recommendations. Be sure to give good reasons and examples to support your opinion.

Directions: Read the following essay. In it, underline and label each of the following:

1. The issue at hand
2. The audience
3. The writer's stance (position) on the issue
4. The call for action
5. The three reasons the writer is "for" or "against" the issue

Dear Senator Jones,

I know that the senate is currently debating a bill that would deny or revoke drivers' licenses for students who drop out or flunk out of high school. I also know that the percentage of students who leave high school before graduating is very high in our state, but the threat of taking away driving privileges is not the way to solve this problem. There are several reasons I believe the bill should not pass.

First, it is unfair to treat all teenagers who leave high school early as if they were all in the same situation. Many students drop out of high school because they must help disabled parents or support their siblings, not because they are "loafers" or "good-for-nothings." Such students are often very hard workers who are caught in a difficult situation where they must put their families before themselves. Since we have very poor public transportation in much of our state, taking away teenagers' ability to drive will only make it harder for them to assist their families. Without a drivers' licenses, these teenagers would not be able to drive family members to the doctor or younger siblings to school. They wouldn't be able to run errands or go grocery shopping. It would make it much more difficult for them to find work and to get to and from their jobs.

I also think it is important to face the fact that some students are simply more motivated to go to work than to go to school. I value my education and know that graduating from high school will probably allow me to earn much more money over my lifetime, but I don't think this law would convince many of my friends who think otherwise. Many of my friends just aren't motivated by long-term goals and rewards, like a better paycheck several years from now. They
